“...let us celebrate with a feast,
Because this son of mine was dead, and has come to life again,
he was lost, and has been found.”

Luke 15: 31

The message of the parable:

“God is like the father who is willing to extravagantly and recklessly spend everything, even his... honor, to reconcile with his children, who treat him so badly.” Catherine Cory

“Through prayer and service, the Saint Joseph family will strive to bring the community together to love, heal, and support one another as the people we are called to be in Christ.”

WORSHIP AID

Parish Prayer

Oh Lord,
 You are the Potter,
 we are the clay.
 Design us to reflect
 your glory as we rebuild
 your Church.
 Fashion our ears to
 hear new ideas.
 Shape our hearts to appreciate others'
 creativity and insight.
 Form our eyes to see
 Jesus in each other.
 Mold our community to be united in
 our pilgrimage.
 Help us build a place
 of refuge,
 a holy temple,
 with Jesus as the cornerstone.
 May we work together
 with love and care,
 ever mindful that
 the spirit,
 not the structure,
 is the essence of
 the design.
 May we come together
 as a family of one,
 to be guided by
 the Father,
 Holy Spirit,
 and Son.
 Amen.

GATHERING - I Heard the Voice of Jesus Say

I heard the voice of Jesus say, "Come unto me and rest; Lay down, O weary one, lay down Your head upon my breast." I came to Jesus as I was, So weary, worn, and sad; I found in him a resting place, And he has made me glad.

I heard the voice of Jesus say, "Behold, I freely give The living water; thirsty one, Stoop down, and drink, and live." I came to Jesus, and I drank Of that lifegiving stream; My thirst was quenched, my soul revived, And now I live in him.

I heard the voice of Jesus say, "I am this dark world's light; Look unto me, your morn shall rise, And all your day be bright." I looked to Jesus, and I found In him my star, my sun; And in that light of life I'll walk Till trav'ling days are done.

PENITENTIAL RITE - Confiteor

I confess to almighty God and to you, my brothers and sisters, that I have greatly sinned, in my thoughts and in my words, in what I have done and in what I have failed to do,

And, striking your breast, say:

through my fault, through my fault, through my most grievous fault;

Then continue:

therefore I ask blessed Mary ever-Virgin, all the Angels and Saints, and you, my brothers and sisters, to pray for me to the Lord our God. §

COMMUNION - Hosea

Come back to me with all your heart. Don't let fear keep us apart. Trees do bend, 'though straight and tall; so must we to others' call.

Long have I waited for your coming home to me and living deeply our new life.

The wilderness will lead you to your heart where I will speak. Integrity and justice, With tenderness, you shall know.

You shall sleep secure with peace; faithfulness will be your joy.

Amazing Grace

Amazing grace! How sweet the sound That saved and set me free! I once was lost, but now am found, Was blind but now I see.

'Twas grace that taught my heart to fear, And grace my fears relieved; How precious did that grace appear The hour I first believed!

The Lord has promised good to me, His word my hope secures; He will my shield and portion be As long as life endures.

FOURTH SUNDAY OF LENT; SECOND SCRUTINY OF THE ELECT

An investment worth making

It's not uncommon to identify individuals, or groups of people, as unworthy of our time and attention. Sometimes these folks just plain bore us to tears. But more often, we view them as freeloaders, untrustworthy, or even bad to the bone. Jesus was criticized for dining with the wrong people: prostitutes (immoral), tax collectors (unpatriotic), and sinners (generally unsavory types). Jesus tells a story of a feast thrown for a "worthless" son to explain why he himself chooses to "waste" time on the undeserving. The lost need finding, and the dead need life restored. "Hospitality opens the gates of paradise," wrote Orthodox Elder Amphilochius of Patmos. Set another place at your table.

TODAY'S READINGS: Year C: Joshua 5:9a, 10-12; 2 Corinthians 5:17-21; Luke 15:1-3, 11-32 (33). "Your brother was dead and has come to life again; he was lost and has been found."

LENTEN WEEKDAY

Tiny miracles

"Do you believe in miracles?" was a famous statement made by a sportscaster who was announcing an Olympic hockey game between the United States and Soviet teams in 1980—the underdog Americans won. Catholics believe in miracles, of course—but there has to be something more than mere unlikeliness to qualify. The church defines miracles as a "sign or wonder such as a healing, or control of nature, which can only be attributed to divine power." While we might not understand how or why miracles happen—or don't, even when we desperately ask—we can be assured that the God of the universe is constantly involved in our little lives out of boundless love. What's a greater miracle than that?

TODAY'S READINGS: Isaiah 65:17-21; John 4:43-54 (244). "Unless you people see signs and wonders, you will not believe."

LENTEN WEEKDAY

A day for the Knights

The Knights of Columbus organization for Catholic men turns 140 years old today. The organization originally got its U.S. start as a mutual aid society for poor immigrant families, particularly those that lost their main source of income whenever fathers died on the job. To this day, "whether at home or abroad, charity is our Order's first principle and the basis for all we do as brother Knights," says Supreme Knight Carl Anderson. The Knights run the National Shrine of Saint John Paul II in Washington, D.C. Visit the shrine virtually, via its 38-minute "A Gift of Love" Virtual Exhibit Tour.

TODAY'S READINGS: Ezekiel 47:1-9, 12; John 5:1-16 (245). "Jesus said to him, 'Rise, take up your mat, and walk.'"

LENTEN WEEKDAY

Let it be a hopeful Lent

Our faith is one of hope. Often we concentrate on the sacrifices and commitments we make during Lent: abstaining from certain treats, attending daily Mass, giving alms generously. But we do this in the hope that Easter will come and Jesus will rise from the dead. Reflect on the spirit of hope that is at the root of your Lenten observance. Here are some words of inspiration from Pope Francis: "No matter where God has planted you, hope. Always hope. Believe in the existence of the most noble and beautiful truths and trust that God, through the Holy Spirit, is ushering everything toward the good, toward Christ's embrace."

TODAY'S READINGS: Isaiah 49:8-15; John 5:17-30 (246). "The hour is coming in which all who are in the tombs will hear his voice and will come out, those who have done good deeds to the resurrection of life."

LENTEN WEEKDAY

Rigor has a reason

We are now four weeks into Lent, at which point, disciplines of prayer, fasting, and almsgiving might not deliver much pious glow. The church developed the tradition of 40 days of Lent based on the 40 days Jesus was tempted in the desert prior to his public ministry. A six-week season of prayer, penance, and almsgiving is meant to instill in us awareness, humility, and love, but most of all, the realization of our utter dependence on God. As Saint Teresa of Ávila says, "Whoever has God lacks nothing. God alone suffices." Take a few moments to reflect on the ways God has sustained you.

TODAY'S READINGS: Exodus 32:7-14; John 5:31-47 (247). "How can you believe, when you accept praise from one another and do not seek the praise that comes from the only God?"

Friday, Apr 01, 2022

LENTEN WEEKDAY; DAY OF ABSTINENCE

Make the uncommon choice for the common good

The "common good" is central to being Catholic. Defined at Vatican II, the common good is the "sum of those conditions of social life which allow social groups and their individual members relatively thorough and ready access to their own fulfillment" (Gaudium et Spes 26). It requires appreciation for the relational nature of human beings and an absolute respect for the dignity of all persons, including but never limited to our own self. It also means ruffling a feather or two as we stare rampant individualism in the face. The common good is always evolving, but our motivation in its pursuit never changes: love of neighbor as ourselves. Where will such love take you next?

TODAY'S READINGS: Wisdom 2:1a, 12-22; John 7:1-2, 10, 25-30 (248). "Let us beset the just one, because he is obnoxious to us; he sets himself against our doings, Reproaches us for transgressions of the law."

MEMORIAL OF FRANCIS OF PAOLA

Small wonder

Francis of Paola lived in a cave but he could see well beyond his confines. His vision for a community of "Minim" ("the least") inspired countless followers to join him in a life of service to the poor and forgotten. Talk about countercultural living! Such radical service requires a whole different set of priorities. For Francis it was a desire for holiness achieved through humility. Each of us can take some steps to "minimize" the excesses we might indulge in and join Francis in serving others in some small way. It's the least we can do!

TODAY'S READINGS: Jeremiah 11:18-20; John 7:40-53 (249). "Never before has anyone spoken like this man."

DISCIPLESHIP

Our mission is to make disciples for Christ

“Every Christian is called to be a missionary, sharing the good news of salvation in Christ and making disciples for him, not for oneself or one's clique of like-minded believers. Pope Francis said. "What instructions does the Lord give us for going forth to others? Only one, and it's very simple: Make disciples. But, be careful: His disciples, not our own," the pope said Oct. 20, 2019 as he celebrated World Mission Sunday.”

FACILITIES

Lighting Upgrade Project Nears Completion

Work to replace fluorescent and incandescent lights with new, energy efficient LED lighting is complete in the school and kindergarten buildings, and nearing completion for the church hall, church exterior, and parking lot lights. A total of 386 light fixtures are being upgraded to LED. Our electricity consumption for these new fixtures will be 70% lower, saving us $900 every month. A PG&E energy-efficiency program is paying for our lighting upgrade. PG&E will recover its cost over time from part of the monthly savings. The pictures show some of the old light fixtures removed from the school and the new lights in one of our classrooms. Out with the old and in with the new - fiat lux!

GOOD NEWS

Reflection by Deacon Benjamin Lai for Fourth Sunday of Lent

The parable of the Prodigal Son begins with “A man had two sons, and the younger son said to his father, ‘Father give me the share of your estate’” so I can go off to live a life on my own, abandoning his family and responsibilities. The father’s reaction seems somewhat surprising. There was no argument and no refusal. He gave him what he wanted: his freedom and his inheritance. The son then takes his inheritance and goes to a foreign land and squanders all of his father’s fortune in an immoral lifestyle. To make matters worse, he was living in a state of profound ritual impurity by living with and eating unclean food. He was thus making himself both spiritually and culturally impure. God gives all of us free will to choose, even when we choose actions that have dire physical and spiritual consequences.

When the son seeks to return, the father had every right to disown him, even humiliate him by reducing him to the status of a servant. Moreover, the son does not come back with perfect contrition; he comes back because his living conditions will be better as a hired servant. Nevertheless, Jesus' portrayal of God’s unconditional love reaches another level. Instead of rebuking him, the father throws his arms around his son, gives him a ring signifying his full membership back into the family and then has the fatted calf slaughtered to celebrate with a feast. He says nothing about the pain and disgrace he has brought to his family. His father rejoices at the return of his lost son just as “there will be more joy in heaven over one sinner who repents than over ninety-nine righteous people who have no need of repentance.” This is what happens every time we encounter Jesus in the confessional, when we receive absolution from the priest.

The message of the gospel is no matter how far we have wandered away from God, no matter how egregious the sin, with His infinite love and compassion, God awaits us with wide open arms and runs towards us to embrace us. Just as the father in the gospel, when we truly repent, God gives us mercy and forgiveness for our sins and not the justice and punishment for our actions that we deserve. His mercy is deeper than any of us can imagine. The prodigal son returns home, seeking true forgiveness and it is gladly and unreservedly given. However, just like the prodigal son, we must truly repent and make the first move. We must make it our daily routine to examine our conscience and our purpose to be in constant communion with the Father.

During this Lenten season, let’s examine every aspect of our lives and to eliminate those that do not bring us closer to God and to develop a deeper relationship with the Father through daily prayer, weekly adoration and to always remain in the state of grace. Let us also share in the message of the Gospel by showing love, mercy and compassion towards one another as God has shown us.
